sought after in the area. There is a large 4-bedroom villa which the owners of properties in Belgravia Club each own a percentage of (registered on their title deed) allowing them to rent the whole villa or just bedrooms to the guests for a very low fee (to cover cleaning fee), and also a super communal pool with easy step access. The gardens in this established community are beautiful, and even though you are only a stone's throw from all amenities, it is extremely quiet and peaceful. There is off-street parking within the community which is totally gated and safe.

Perhaps one of the most important and attractive attributes of this particular front-line townhouse is that it overlooks the port and if any building work to extend the current port should go ahead it would remain unaffected.
